INDIVIDUAL OFFICER PURCHASE PROGRAM - FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: I'm the head of my Department. Can I sign my own letterhead?

A: Yes.

Q: What does a Federal Firearms License (FFL) Dealer typically charge for a transfer fee?

A: Most dealers charge a transfer fee of $25.00-$50.00. SIG SAUER recommends contacting the dealer prior to shipment to get a quote.

Q: Do I have to contact the Federal Firearms License (FFL) Dealer before I have my pistol shipped there?

A: SIG SAUER recommends that you seek permission from the FFL Dealer to use their location for your transfer. Unexpected deliveries may be refused by the Dealer.

Q: The Federal Firearms License (FFL) Dealer that I would like to use for transfer is already listed on your web site as a SIG Dealer. Do I still have to submit a copy of their FFL?

A: No, please just cut out the "FFL on File" form from the ordering instructions sheet in this packet and include it with your order form and photocopy of your Law Enforcement ID card.

Q: Why can't I fax my order to SIG SAUER?

A: Fax machines obscure the image on the Law Enforcement ID card.

Q: If I use a credit card, when am I billed for the merchandise?

A: Your card will be billed on the day that your merchandise departs from SIG SAUER.

Q: Why can't I use a Debit Card?

A: Debit cards look to immediately reserve funds and show a temporary charge on your statement. This can lead a customer to believe that the merchandise has been billed and shipped before it is truly in transit.

Q: Why can't I use a personal check?

A: Personal checks must be held for clearance and delay shipments to customers.

Q: Why does it take 6-8 weeks for delivery?

A: SIG SAUER Law Enforcement products are built to order. Dependent upon the backlog and production schedule at the factory, some items may take the full eight weeks but many take less.

Q: I would like to have my firearm customized. Is this possible?

A: Sorry, we do not accept any custom orders on this program. Customization would have to occur through the SIG SAUER Custom Shop after the point of sale.

Q: I only want to order accessories. Do I still need a letterhead to ship them to my agency?

A: No, a letterhead is only required for firearms. We will still need a photocopy of your Law Enforcement ID card included with the order.

Q: Do I have to pay Sales Tax or Shipping and Handling in addition to the price listed?

A: Our quoted prices include Shipping and Handling. No Sales Tax applies as the transactions take place in the State of New Hampshire. You will be responsible for the transfer fee if shipping to a Federal Firearms License (FFL) Dealer and may be subject to a local use tax.

Q: I'm retired from Law Enforcement. Can I still ship the pistol to my former agency with an endorsed letterhead?

A: Sorry, all retired Officers must use a Federal Firearms License (FFL) Dealer for receipt of their order.

Q: Why do some models ship with more magazines than others?

A: Some of the products on the SIG SAUER Law Enforcement Purchase Program were developed by our Custom Shop and Commercial Sales Department. Please read the price list carefully for specifications on what magazines and accessories are included with each item.

Q: I have a friend in Law Enforcement who is interested in purchasing a firearm. May I pass this packet to them?

A: Absolutely. We welcome any active or retired Officer to participate in this program.

Q: My Chief won't sign the "Agency Authorization Letterhead" because the text refers to the item being for official use only and not for personal use. I thought the firearm was going to be my personal property?

A: You are correct. The text refers to acceptance by your Chief that this item is suitable for on-duty or off-duty use and is not being procured for resale to a third party. If your Chief isn't comfortable with the text of the letter, use a Federal Firearms License (FFL) Dealer to complete the transfer. The format of the "Agency Authorization Letterhead" may not be altered.
